

Enhance Your Stay in Berlin with Additional Privately Guided Sightseeing

World War II History Private Walking Tour: Explore Berlin's World War II history through the places where pivotal events unfolded and the city confronted the devastating consequences of Nazi rule. Accompanied by your insightful personal guide, you'll see the Reichstag, the Soviet War Memorial, and the Bendlerblock, the historic building that served as the nerve center of Operation Valkyrie, the failed 1944 assassination and coup attempt against Adolf Hitler. You'll also trace former sites linked with leading figures of the Nazi regime, including Göring, Goebbels, Himmler, Heydrich, and Hitler. Along the way, learn about Berlin as the center of Nazi power and about the persecution endured by Jews, civilians, forced laborers, and others under the regime. The tour concludes at the Memorial to the Murdered Jews of Europe, a powerful place of remembrance in the heart of Berlin. Together, these sites offer a deeper understanding of Berlin's wartime history and the profound legacy it left behind. This privately-guided 4-hour walking tour does not include inside visits or entrance fees.

Jewish Heritage Private Walking Tour: Delve into the rich history and enduring presence of Berlin's Jewish community on a privately guided walk through the heart of the city. Following its reestablishment in the late 17th century, Berlin's Jewish community flourished for more than two centuries, making lasting contributions to the city's intellectual, scientific, business, and artistic life. With your local guide, explore the buildings and traces that remain from this vibrant heritage, while learning about prominent Jewish philosophers, scientists, entrepreneurs, and artists who helped shape Berlin. You'll also encounter poignant memorials that bear witness to the devastation of the Shoah and learn about the Jewish institutions and community that continue to enrich Berlin today. The tour concludes at the New Synagogue – Centrum Judaicum, an enduring symbol of Berlin's Jewish heritage. This walking tour does not include inside visits.

Private Berlin Tour - Face to Face With a Local: With your own professional guide, an engaging Berlin resident, you'll experience a more intimate side of Berlin as you explore the lively Mitte district and Hackescher Markt. Venture beyond the main streets into hidden courtyards, atmospheric alleys, and beautifully preserved corners of the city's historic center, where everyday life unfolds alongside remarkable architecture. Admire the Jugendstil details of the Hackesche Höfe, a celebrated complex of interconnected courtyards and Art Nouveau architecture, and learn how this once-residential quarter has evolved into one of Berlin's most vibrant neighborhoods. Along the way, your guide will introduce you to the area's distinctive food, fashion, and creative scene, sharing personal insights that bring the neighborhood to life. It's an engaging way to experience Berlin beyond its famous landmarks and discover the character of the city through a local's perspective. This 2-hour walking tour begins from Rosenthaler Strasse 40, in front of the iconic Hackescher Hof Restaurant.

Private Half-Day Tour to Potsdam and Sanssouci With Driver + Guide: With your private car, driver, and guide, you'll leave Berlin behind to discover Potsdam, a city where magnificent royal estates and pivotal moments in modern history come together amid beautiful parks and gardens. Begin at Sanssouci Palace, the elegant Rococo retreat of Frederick the Great. Explore its richly decorated interiors on a self-guided visit, and stroll with your guide through the surrounding gardens and grounds. A UNESCO World Heritage Site, Sanssouci offers a fascinating look into the opulence of 18th-century Prussian royalty. Next you'll see the Cecilienhof Palace, built in the early 1900s in the style of an English manor. Admire its handsome Tudor façade and ornate brick chimneys as your private guide brings to life the events of the 1945 Potsdam Conference, when Allied leaders gathered to negotiate the terms of the postwar world. Along the way, you'll also explore Potsdam's historic center and enjoy time for lunch at your own expense. The combination of royal grandeur, beautiful landscapes, and consequential history makes Potsdam a fascinating complement to Berlin. Lasting about 5 hours, this excursion includes roundtrip chauffeured transportation from your hotel in Berlin and admission to Sanssouci Palace with an audioguide. Sanssouci is closed on Mondays.

Private Half-Day Tour to the Sachsenhausen Memorial With Driver + Guide: This chauffeured excursion to the Sachsenhausen Memorial and Museum, located just outside Berlin, is a thoughtful exploration of one of the most difficult chapters in Germany's history. Established by the Nazis in 1936, Sachsenhausen served as a concentration camp and later became a center for training SS personnel and administering the wider concentration camp system. Accompanied by your private guide, you will learn about the lives of those imprisoned here, the system of persecution they endured, and the tens of thousands who died at the camp. The site also reflects a second chapter of history: after World War II, the Soviet authorities used Sachsenhausen to imprison political opponents, with thousands more dying there. Today, the memorial preserves the site as a place of remembrance and education, offering a powerful opportunity to reflect on the human consequences of dictatorship and persecution. This 5-hour excursion includes roundtrip chauffeured transportation from your hotel in Berlin. Covering sensitive and challenging historical subjects, the minimum age to participate is 12 years.

Private Full-Day Tour to Dresden With Driver + Local Guide: Depart Berlin with your private car and driver for a scenic two-hour drive to Dresden, pausing in Moritzburg to admire its striking Baroque castle and surrounding parkland, once a favored hunting retreat of Saxony's elite. Continue with a visit to the Meissen Porcelain factory shop. Established in 1710, Meissen's artisans have long been celebrated for their skill, artistry, and fine craftsmanship. As you near Dresden, cross the Loschwitz Bridge, renowned for its striking ironwork, and take in sweeping views of the Elbschlösser, three stunning 19th-century palaces built along the river. Long known as the Jewel Box of Saxony for its Baroque and Rococo splendor, Dresden was devastated by Allied bombing in 1945 but has since seen landmarks like the Zwinger Palace and Semper Opera House rebuilt to their former grandeur. Enjoy a private walking tour through the historic town center as your guide, an engaging local resident, offers insights into Dresden's rich and layered history. Lasting approximately 10 hours, this tour includes roundtrip chauffeured transportation from your hotel in Berlin and a two-hour guided walk through Dresden. Entrance fees are not included and can be paid on site, if applicable.

Private Full-Day Tour to Leipzig With Driver + Local Guide: Discover Leipzig, one of Germany's most dynamic cities, on this private excursion from Berlin with your English-speaking driver and a professional local guide. Long a center of trade, music, and ideas, Leipzig is home to the world's largest terminus railway station and the impressive Völkerschlachtdenkmal; built to commemorate the 1813 Battle of the Nations, this is one of the largest monuments on the continent. Upon arrival, meet your local expert guide for a 1.5-hour walking tour to discover the city's historic highlights, including the Old Town Hall, the elegant Mädler Passage, and the Thomaskirche, where Johann Sebastian Bach served as choirmaster and now lies buried. Your guide will share the story of Leipzig's careful postwar restoration, as well as the city's pivotal role in the 1989 peaceful protests that helped bring about the fall of the East German communist regime. Afterward, enjoy some free time to explore Leipzig at your own pace before returning to Berlin with your car and driver. Lasting about 10 hours, this day trip includes roundtrip chauffeured transportation and a 1.5-hour guided walking tour. Entrance fees are not included and can be paid on site, if applicable.
